Nebraska is very expensive at the best, and from this on I propose to raise my own winter feed. Put me down as a dry farmer sheepman from now on, and say for me too that sheepmen of Wyoming can put their efforts and money to no better purpose than by developing the arid flats, benches and ridges by the dry farm method, supplemented where possible with irrigated farming."

From the container was taken 1.6 pints of tar and 57 pints of crude acettle arid, etc. The tar unavoidably mixed with some of the aqueous solution amounted to 750 cubic centimeters, and upon distillation yielded 34 cubic centimeters of wood oil, 129 cubic centimeters of creosote, 110 cubic centimeters of aqueous distillate. Dr. Talmage declares that the charcoal is of superior quality and should the used as fuel, but made use of in the manufacture of artists' crayons, sedinal tablets and blow pipe blocks, the demand for which is great and the supply of grape vine and hember woods, used in the manufacture of such charcoal, vastly deficient. No estimate is made of the value of the calcium carbonate and the pitch is said to be of doubtful value and Dr. Talmage recommends that these frems be eliminated and the value of the product from the distillation of $1.000 pounds of sagebrush be given as the product from the distillation of 4,000 pounds of sagebrush be given as 45.79. As to acetic acid, Dr. Talmage remarks that its production is inter-changeable with acetone. Dr. Talmage says in concluding his

M. E. Mulvey's Candidacy.

Mr. Mulvey's candidacy is, I think, unfortunate, whatever his qualifications may be. He is surrounded by and represents interests that should have no part in making the laws of a city. That he would foster and protect such interests would be but natural, and for this reason I hope that he may not ELMER I. GOSHEN. be elected.

Our government guarantees to every citizen certain rights, thereby none can be kept from becoming candidates for public office because of color, creed or business. "All things are lawful, but all things are not expedient." Mr. Mulvey has the legal right of every American citizen to run for office, and every American citizen has the right to oppose him, and I believe that every Christian citizen that loves humanity's welfare should oppose him. He may have all the business acumen necessary to fit him for the place he seeks, but the attitude of the Methodist Episcopal church toward the liquor traffic is emphatically my own, and that of most Methodist Episcopalians, and whatever others may do I am opposed to his election. I believe that all other church people should vote to defeat him. My attitude would be precisely the same were he a candidate on any other ticket.

With the Utah Colony in Chicago

HICAGO, ILL. Oct. 26.-That there are more Utah students in Chicago than any other city outside the state was demonstrated last Friday evening when nearly 300 of them responded to invitations for a reception given by the Sunday school officers of the Latterday Saints in the saints' Sunday school

Everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Those who are away from home for the first year made the best of this chance to forget their homesickness as well as find who of their old acquaintances were in the same school. Those who have been here longer found who of their friends had returned and what other friends were here this year for the first time. In schools like these around Chicago friends might attend a whole year without meeting if working in different departments and if, in different schools. So such a reception not only affords a good time but was the means of bringing together many friends and thus make the year or years away from home more pleasant.

Superintendent H. J. Sears presided and called on representatives of each of the schools represented.

Superintendent H. J. Sears presided and called on representatives of each of the schools represented. Preston D. Richards of the law department of University of Chicago was called to represent his school. He infused his speech with friendly college rivalry which spirit was apparent in most of the following speeches. Homer Rich followed with an account of the equipment and advantages of his school, Physicians and Surgeons school. L. A. Stevenson stood up for the medical department of Northwestern university. W. R. Leonard of Rich Medical college then sang a song "taking off" the other big medical schools. The pain extractors came in for their turn next. L. A. McBride told of the advantages offered by Northwestern Dental school and of the historic old building occupied by the college. B. F. Smith then stood up for Chicago cover form all parts of Chicago as well as a number of temporary visitors in the city.

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris was in Chicago over Sunday and sang at the meeting Sunday morning at the Latter-day Saints' meetinghouse on Paulina street.

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris has for the past two weeks been touring the state of Indiana and will before leaving Chicago sing at a big reception to be given by Mrs. Deering one of the social leaders of Chicago.

After the program the rivalry soon changed to the home schools as nearly every one had attended some of the Utah colleges. "I am a Utah man" by the University of Utah crowd soon started the B. Y. U. students on some of their good music, and before long the B. Y. C. and A. C. were on the band wagon. But when the interest was again directed to the Chicago schools curiously those who had been supporting the same home school were now as ardently supporting rival Chicago schools.

ROOMS ARE ASSIGNED IN BISHOP'S BUILDING

Quarters Given the Relief Societies Seventies, Y. M. M. I., Primary Associations and Presiding Bishopric,

The handsome new building at 40 north Main, known as the bishop's building, will be the home, or headquarters, of the Relief societies, seven ties, Young Men's and Young Ladies quarters, of the Relief societies, seventies, Young Men's and Young Ladies' associations and the Primary associations, as soon as the building is ready for occupancy, which will probably be some time in November.

The rooms for these various organizations have just been assigned to them by the presiding bishopric as follows: The Relief society will occupy four rooms on the north side of the building on the second floor extending from the front back to the elevator in the northeast corner of the building. The seventies will have three rooms on the south side of the building on the stame floor, and back of them will be the three large rooms of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement associations. In the center of the building on this floor leading from the elevator towards the front is a large hallway which opens into a large assembly room to be used by all the organizations on that floor.

The third floor is similarly arranged, with a hallway leading from the elevator down the center of the building towards the front, and opening into an assembly room in the front end. The rooms on the north side on this floor will be used by the Primary associations, from the front all the way back to the elevator. Four of the six rooms on the south side on this floor are to be used by the Young Ladies' associations, which leaves two vacant in the extreme southeast corner.

The marble trimmings are now being put in place in the bishop's office on the first floor, leaving the large room, now used by them on the north side for the use of the council of twelve, and some of the general boards. Back of this room a cosy room has been fitted up for the use of the president of the council of twelve, and some of the general boards. Back of this room a cosy room has been fitted up for the use of the central hall, south side of the building on this floor, will be used by the bishop's office.

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS.

Y. M. C. A. In Boston Out After Half A Million Dollars.

The local Y. M. C. A. people have just heard from Boston where the association there has been on a 10 days' campaign for $600,000 to complete its fund, somewhat after the manner of the effort of the Sait Lake organisation to raise $150,000. The president, Arthur S. Johnson, gave $60,000, and J. P. Bates, $20,000. The lot and new huilding at Boston will cost $1,200,000. During the past month, the Lincoln,

J. Bryan making the first gift of $2,500. Honolulu, H. I., started in to raise $100,000 in 10 days and got $125,000 in $100,000 in 10 days and got $125,000 in five. Former Gov. Carter, formerly Yale center and crew man, was chairman of the committee. The association at Ashtabula, O., asked for $35,000 and got $38,000. Pueblo, Colorado, one of the few large cities in the country without an association, began a campaign two weeks ago with a banquet to business men who on that night piedged $44,000. Kokomo, Ind., secured $57,000 by a popular canvass. On the last day of it the high school boys raised $1,200.

Like many large sheep owners Mr. Delfelder was for years somewhat skeptical about farming in an arid country at an elevation of more than 6,000 feet, but after watching the operations of Prof. V. T. Cooke, the dry farm expert, at one of the state farms on Powder river below here the past season, and a few weeks ago witnessing the harvest of oats, wheat, barley, rye, etc., he doubted no more, and at once sent in an order for plows, harrows and other farming machinery, and is now hard at work.

"The past season was exceedingly dry throughout this region," said Flockmaster Delfeider a few days ago, "and if such crops as I saw grown at the Powder river farm can be grown under the unfavorable conditions of the past summer, then I am satisfied that with an average year, these sagebrush flats will produce wonderful stands of all kinds of grain common to this latitude. Range sheep and wool growing under present conditions, while profitable to those who devote their time to the business and work hard, is not a safe proposition unless you raise hay and grain to feed during the winter months.
